Shot That May Result

Victim Taken to Mt. Vernon Hospital Where Bullet Is Removed---Danger
of Peritonitis.

What is believed to be a fatal shooting affray occurred near Homer, in the northern part of Licking county, Friday morning about 2 o'clock, when John Hilbrant, a farmer, aged 45 years, a married man with three children, shot Leroy Letts, aged 26, also married, and the father of one child. Letts now lies in a hospital in Mt. Vernon, nearly dead, while the last heard of Hilbrant was that he was on his way to this city in an auto, to give himself up to the authorities.

The shooting resulted from an attempt of Letts and two companions to take honey from a bee tree on Hilbrant's farm, Friday morning.

After Honey.

Letts, a tool-dresser, living on a farm adjoining that of Hilbrant, accompanied by his brother-in-law, Charles Perkins, and the latter's cousin, Virgil Meyers, went to a bee tree half way between the Letts and Hilbrant houses on the latter's farm, and chopped down the tree. While getting to the honey a shot came crashing through the branches narrowly missing the three.

Hilbrant Followed.

The three immediately set out on the run in the direction of Letts' house, running through the woods. When they reached the barn Perkins ran inside and hid and Letts ran around the barn, while Meyers took an opposite course. A little later Perkins stepped out of the barn door just in time to see Letts come around the corner.

Fired Three Shots.

Then Perkins heard three shots fired, and in the dim light of the early morning, saw Letts stagger toward the tree from where Hilbrant's shot was fired. Letts grabbed his assailant and, with the words: "What did you do that for?" began beating him, but fell exhausted as Perkins reached his side and continued the assault upon Hilbrant, knocking him down several times, finally succeeding in taking the revolver away from him.

Hilbrant finally managed to make his escape, running to his house.

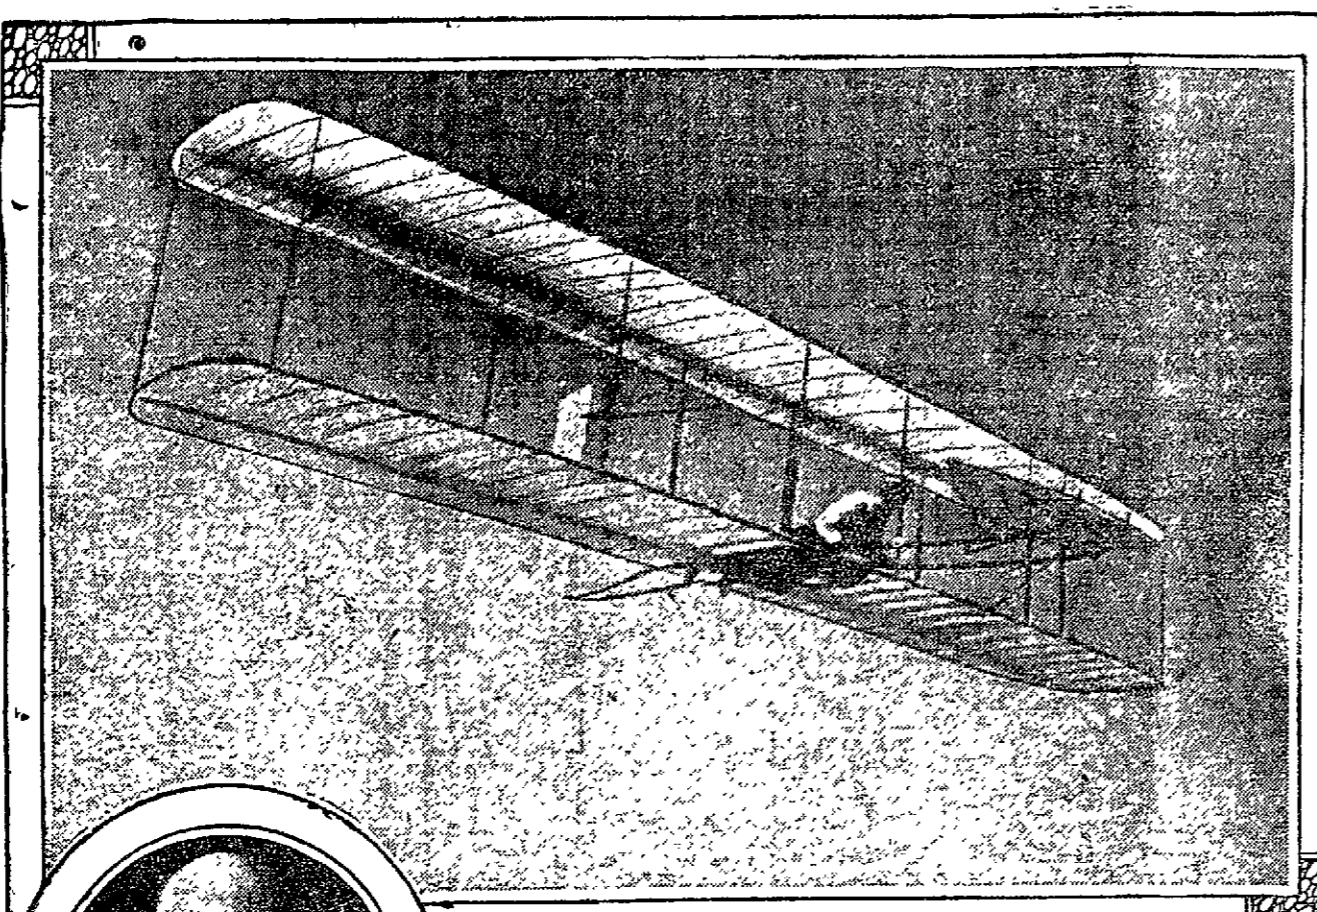

Perkins and Meyers hurried Letts into the house, neighbors were notified and physicians summoned. Drs. Carl Evans and D. M. Smith of this city, Dr. Frank Larimore, Mt. Vernon, and Dr. Barney Coleman of Ho-

DEMOCRATIC PLURALITY PREDICTED FOR INDIANA

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 18.—Without knowing where to anchor, the Republican ship of state is afloat on a stormy sea. Caught coming and going in a whirlwind of disaster, the party leaders admit that they are facing a crisis in their campaign.

On the basis of what happened in the Representative district of Delaware county and in the Senatorial district of Newton, Jasper, White and Starke, Indiana may give a Democratic plurality of 40,000 on November 3.

On top of this came the reports that at least seven or eight Republican members of the House will refuse to vote for the county local option bill at the extraordinary session beginning today.

Not only is it believed that the Republican state ticket is in grave danger, but it was predicted that the handwriting of defeat was shown yesterday for William Howard Taft so far as Indiana is concerned.

That there were hundreds of laboring men in Muncie who voted with the liberal element because they are against the Republican candidates for President and Governor was stated last night. Only by a strenuous effort on the part of every member of the party it is now expected that defeat can be averted in November.

The result in Muncie, while wholly unexpected by the Republican leaders, was a distinct shock. They hoped against hope that Lewis C. Cox, their candidate for representation, might have a majority of 1,000 over Otto Williamson, the Democratic nominee.

Information received at Republican headquarters was that Cox's plurality was 237. His total vote was 5,025; Williamson, 4,728.

Williamson carried the city of Muncie by over 700 votes, which was a loss of 2,500 for the Republicans. The slaughter in the Republican stronghold of Delaware county was attributed generally to the advocacy of the county local option measure by the Republicans, but on every hand it was charged by Republicans that the result was a rebuke to Governor Hanly for calling a special session of the legislature.

The bitterness displayed toward the governor by many Republican leaders was as great as during the last session of the legislature, when he and a majority of the members were "across purposes."

That the party got what it deserved for permitting the governor to dictate the local option plank was the charge that was on the lips of many angry Republicans.

One nominee on the state ticket at Muncie voted against Coxing merely as a protest against the governor. It was declared that the result not only at Muncie, but in the Senatorial district of Jasper, Newton, White and Starke counties, proves the unwisdom of the governor's course in calling the extra session, so far as the party's welfare is concerned.

Furthermore, it was asserted that the result not only in Muncie, but in the last Senatorial district, shows that there is such a deep-seated feeling against the governor throughout the state that the Republicans cannot hope to win with his support of their ticket.

UNDERTAKER

Prepares Corpses for Burial After Mrs. Barnum Had Been Pronounced Dead for Third Time.

Winnet Conn., Sept. 18.—Twice pronounced dead and twice revived, Mrs. John Barnum, whose suspended animation deceived a physician and undertaker, relatives and friends, and who narrowly escaped being embalmed when living last week, is dead today. That life is extinct now there is no doubt. After being pronounced dead for the third time relatives watched the corpse as they had before for signs of returning life, but none came, and the undertaker this time prepared the corpse for burial.

EIGHT STEAMERS ARE OVERDUE

COMMITTS SUICIDE

GENERAL LEARD COULD NOT BEAR ACCUSATIONS THAT HE HAD MURDERED WIFE.

London, Sept. 18.—Unable to bear the cruel accusations that he had murdered his wife whose body was not through the land, Major General Charles Edward Leard is believed to have thrown himself in front of a train on the South-Eastern railway this morning. He was found to death. On yesterday the coroner adjourned the investigation into the death of Mrs. Leard until September 27, with the intimation that he expected the death of the murderer before this date. This action was construed as the general acceptance of the fact that the general murdered his wife. He left a note saying he was unable to stand the shame of the terrible accusation.

ARMY OFFICER IS DEAD

Inventor Has Fractured Leg and Three Broken Ribs---Tests
Will Be Resumed.

Washington, Sept. 18.—Orville Wright was resting easy this morning, although very weak from the terrible injuries and shock which he sustained yesterday evening in the accident which killed his companion, Lieutenant Thos. E. Selfridge, and completely wrecked his aeroplane. "I believe he will recover," said Dr. Bailey, his physician. "He is suffering from a slight concussion of the brain as well as a broken thigh and three fractured ribs, and is weak from the loss of blood. He must be kept perfectly quiet and no intimations. Lieutenant Selfridge's death must reach him. He is bearing up wonderfully well under the circumstances."

Washington, Sept. 18.—The blades of one of the two propellers on the Wright aeroplane broke during a flight yesterday afternoon at Ft. Myer, with Orville Wright and Lieutenant Thomas F. Selfridge, of the Signal Corps, U. S. A., in the machine, which fell a distance of 75 feet.

Lieutenant Selfridge is dead from a fractured skull and Mr. Wright lies in the Ft. Myer hospital with left leg fractured at the thigh and three ribs broken. He will recover unless there are serious internal injuries not developed.

The aeroplane is a total wreck, nothing remaining intact save the planes that gave it buoyancy.

While the machine was encircling the drill grounds a propeller blade snapped off, and hitting some other part of the intricate mechanism, caused it to overturn in the air and fell to the ground, enveloping the two occupants in the debris.

Soldiers and spectators ran across the field to where the aeroplane had fallen and assisted in lifting Mr. Wright and Lieutenant Selfridge from under the tangled mass of machinery, rods, wires and shreds of muslin. Mr. Wright was conscious and said: "Oh, hurry and lift the motor."

Lieutenant Selfridge was unconscious and had apparently struck the ground with great force. His head was covered with blood and he was choking when the soldiers extricated him from under the machine.

Dr. Watters, a New York physician, was one of the first to reach the spot, and rendered first aid to the injured men. When their wounds had been bandaged Mr. Wright and Lieutenant Selfridge were taken to the Ft. Myer hospital, at the other end of the field. It was feared that Mr. Wright was suffering with internal injuries. He had elapsed into a state of semi-consciousness by the time he reached the hospital, while Lieutenant Selfridge did not regain consciousness at all. He was suffering with a fracture at the base of the skull and was in a critical condition.

After a hurried surgical examination it was announced that Mr. Wright was not dangerously injured. Both men sustained deep cuts about the head. Mr. Wright regained consciousness at the hospital and dictated a cablegram to his brother at Le Mans, France, and requested that the same message be sent to his sisters and father at Dayton, Ohio, assuring them that he was all right.

Mr. Wright announced several days ago that he would take Lieutenant Selfridge, who is Secretary of the Aerial Equipment Association and an aviator himself, in his next flight. The young officer was delighted to have an opportunity to fly in the aeroplane. He was to leave Saturday for St. Joseph, Mo., where he was to assist Lieutenant Fowles in operating the Baldwin airship at the coming army maneuvers.

After Mr. Wright told him to get in the machine Lieutenant Selfridge took off his coat and hat and took his place in the extra seat next to that occupied by Mr. Wright. The latter started the motor by means of a storage battery. His assistants, Taylor and Francis, turning the propellers a few times, started the engine. At 5:14 the aeroplane was released, and it was noticed.

BAYONET STAB PROVES FATAL TO MILITIAMAN

Will Fowler Succumbs to Operation Made Necessary
by Gangrene

CLAIMS WOUND WAS SELF-INFLICTED

Mother and Two Brothers of Wellsburg, West Va.,
With Him When the End Came---Body to be Shipped Back Home.

Will Fowler, 21, the young private of Company C, Fifth West Virginia

Infantry, who was stabbed through the right thigh last Thursday night while enroute with his company from Wheeling to Camp Benjamin Harrison, died at 3:40 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the Sanitarium where he was taken when the Pan-Handle train arrived in Newark. His death was due to gangrene which had set in and affected his right leg, and necessitated an operation performed yesterday afternoon by Drs. D. M. Smith and Evans. The operation, the removal of the affected leg near the thigh, was a desperate chance taken in the effort to save his life, but he succumbed while on the operating table.

Fowler, whose home was in Wellsburg, a small town near Wheeling, was engaged in a political argument, the men in the car taking sides on the respective merits of Taft and Bryan. The argument grew warm, and Fowler was told by the others that they would lock him up if he "didn't stop arguing." Enraged at something that was said he jumped to his feet and pulled his bayonet, when a sudden lurch of the train threw him against the side of the car, the sharp steel piercing his leg.

When the train reached Newark he was unconscious from loss of blood, and the fellow members of his company who escorted him to the hospital gave the impression that he had been stabbed by a fellow soldier, and that that soldier, whose name they would not tell, had been placed under arrest and taken on to the national encampment with the rest of the company. A fellow member of the company was left in Newark with Fowler.

The impression that he had been stabbed was dispelled by the injured man himself, when he told the hospital attendants that the wound was self-inflicted. He was placed on the operating table at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon, but his weakened condition and the effect of the poison in the blood was too much for him and he could not survive the operation.

His mother, Mrs. Ella Fowler, was at once notified and she came to Newark Thursday night, accompanied by her sons Bart and Frank. They took charge of the body and had it sent to the undertaking parlors of Criss Bros. and Jones where it was prepared for burial. Fowler is also survived by two brothers, Theodore and Joe, who did not come to Newark.

He was twenty-one, the second of this month, but had served in the militia for the past four years and was anticipating a fine time at the national encampment he was on his way to attend when the injury that caused his death resulted. He was unmarried and was a lock tender at Lock No. 11 on the Ohio river. The body will be taken to Wellsburg for burial.

Robert Hammecker, also a private in the same company young Fowler belonged to, said Friday that the fight occurred as a result of an altercation between he and the dead man. He said that Fowler struck at him with his bayonet, or rather with one that he snatched from another member of the company, and missing him made an underhand stroke that carried the steel through his own leg. The bayonet used was one of the new army pattern which is as sharp as a razor.

A detail of six members of Fowler's company was on the 1:40 o'clock Panhandle train Friday noon, sent here by the captain to act as an escort to the body. The remains were shipped to his home on that train.

that it did not rise as quickly from the ground as on previous two-man flights. Lieutenant Selfridge weighed about 175 pounds, making the weight greater than the machine had ever carried before.

After gliding over the ground on its runners for 80 feet the machine rose gradually, and had gained a height was maintained, on the third starting apparatus for the first time. There was a six-mile wind, and it was noticed that the machine did not run as smoothly as on its former flights, most of which were made in calm weather. The aeroplanists, however, apparently had control over the flyer, which rose to a height of 75 feet as it completed the second round of the field. This height was maintained, on the third round.

While the machine was turning at the southern end of the field, several thousand feet from the spectators, someone shouted, "What is that? Something fell!"

Immediately all eyes were on the aeroplane, and it was seen to turn over on its left side, and, passing a moment, made a complete turn, and then came swooping to the earth in a cloud of dust. No effort on the part of the aviator could possibly have averted the accident. Planes and rudders were absolutely incapable of righting the machine when it had turned in that manner.

Several officers who were standing around the starting apparatus ordered the mounted soldiers over to the wreck, but spectators, soldiers, officers and newspaper men were already running across the field. It was fully a minute before anyone reached the tangled mass.

The mounted soldiers formed a cordon around the wreckage, while others frantically endeavored to lift the heavy mass of machinery and wood that pinned Wright and Selfridge to the ground. Lieutenant Selfridge was groaning and choking from internal hemorrhage. Orville Wright lay by his side, his face as pale as the mass of white muslin overhead. He was conscious, and asked that the machine be lifted off his leg.

"Oh, but it will hurt when they touch that leg," said Mr. Wright.

Piece after piece of the wooden framework was broken off as a half dozen men endeavored to free the injured men. As soon as they could be extricated they were taken to one side and physicians from the crowd of spectators went to their aid.

Their clothes were loosened and their wounds bandaged. Attendants from the post hospital hastened across the field to the place where the machine lay, and as soon as possible Mr. Wright and Lieutenant Selfridge were laid on stretchers and carried to the hospital.

As the gasoline tank had been pierced when the machine crashed to the ground, there was great danger that someone might come too near with a lighted cigar or cigarette and add an explosion to the disaster. A cordon of soldiers kept the crowd at a safe distance.

After a surgical examination it was announced that Lieutenant Selfridge was in a critical condition, having suffered a fracture at the base of the skull. It was said then that Mr. Wright was not seriously injured. At 7:40 o'clock Major Crosby, Major McCaw, Major Ireland and Captain Bailey, the army surgeon attending the injured men, gave out the following statement:

"Mr. Wright has fractures of the left thigh and several ribs on the right side. He was much shocked, but has reacted well. Lieutenant Selfridge received a fracture of the base of the skull. His condition is extremely critical."

At 8:30 o'clock Lieutenant Selfridge died. He was expecting his mother, who lives in San Francisco, to arrive in Washington this month. He was a nephew of Admiral Selfridge, and has a brother who is an officer in the navy. Glenn H. Curtis, of the Aerial Experiment Association, called up by long-distance telephone as soon as he heard of the accident. He notified Lieutenant Selfridge's family in San Francisco.

Mr. Wright yesterday replaced the propellers which he has been using with another pair, the blades of which are six inches longer. They were used for the first time in yesterday's disastrous flight, and many who have witnessed Mr. Wright's flights at Ft. Myer believe the change of propellers caused the accident. An examination of the broken blade showed that it had been snapped off at a point one-fourth of the distance from the hub. A deep indentation of the broken piece indicated that it had struck some other part of the aeroplane.

Octave Chanute, the father of aeronautics in America, who came to Washington several days ago for the purpose of seeing Orville Wright's flights, examined the wreckage. He said that if the Wrights had used but one propeller instead of two the result would have been less serious.

AMUSEMENTS

THE PRESS AGE SAYS:

One of the unusual features of Lottie Blair Parker's play of Southern life, is that the women of the cast outnumber the men. As a rule the reverse is the case in dramatic offerings. The presence of so many women upon the scene is one of the attractions of the play, especially as many of them are young and pretty. The birthday party of the youthful heroine, and the hallowe'en festivities, which include the carrying out of some amusing hallowe'en tricks and a jack-o-lantern dance, give fine scope for showing the feminine members of the company to advantage. The part of the heroine, Lellie Croton, a young southern belle, is a difficult one to enact, portraying as it does all the emotions from gay and loving light-heartedness, to most intense misery and grief.

At Auditorium Saturday afternoon and night.

It is safe to say that there will be few empty chairs at the Auditorium theatre next Monday night, September 21, during the engagement of Howard Hall's new and novel comedy-drama, "The Boy With the Boodie." The play, it is said, is one of the very best of its class, while the management has selected a cast far above the average to interpret this truly wonderful play founded upon lines, situations, scenes, etc., best calculated to suit the peculiar ideas and tastes of the theatre-going public. "The Boy With the Boodie" meets with instant favor leaving a lasting impression upon all who see it, thereby earning first place among the good ones, independent and fearless of all competitors.

The change in the bill at the Auditorium theatre this half of the week is a decided winner. The new subjects being shown in the moving pictures are: "Young Treasurer Seekers," "Charley's Dream," "A Curious Discovery," "Your Fortune," "Skidoo Cab," and new music by Prof. Smith's orchestra. The trombone and cornet duets, and the "Dance of the Goblins" numbers, will be continued this week.

Lottie Blair Parker's wonderfully realistic work, "Under Southern Skies," will hold the boards at the Auditorium tomorrow night, and the advance inquiries for seats have indicated a packed house. The attraction surely needs no better recommendation than comes from those who have seen it produced. It is claimed to be replete with the most realistic home-scenes and good situations to such a number as to place it in a class of its own.

A young couple at the Orpheum theatre Thursday evening, were objects of interest to several people about them, because while they appeared to enjoy the performance as much as anyone else they never applauded anything although the show was a good one and the house was generous with its approval. It was surmised by some of the observers that these two silent ones were from Zanesville, and did not know how to applaud, yet they did not look like them either, and the mystery remained unsolved until near the end of the show. Then came a particular good turn and the girl turned to the young man and said: "Henry dear, you'll just have to let go of my hand for a minute. I've simply got to applaud this time."

Orpheum quartette tonight. Extra attraction.

DENISON'S SPLENDID GIFT OF OBSERVATORY FROM AMBROSE SWASEY

Cleveland Philanthropist Will Present University With a Fully Equipped Observatory Consisting of Central Tower With Revolving Dome

Prominent Cleveland Architect Has Been Secured to Design the Building--Letter of Donor Read by Dr. Hunt in Chapel--News of Granville.

Granville, Sept. 18.—Intense interest was created at the opening chapel exercises of Denison university yesterday by Dr. Hunt's announcement of the splendid gift of Ambrose Swasey, Esq., of Cleveland, of a complete modern observatory and telescope. Mr. Swasey is a noted citizen of Cleveland, recently the president Chronograph, and to be used as a library and computing room.

"The equipment of the observatory will consist of an equatorial telescope of 9-inches clear aperture, the telescope having a Polar Position Micrometer and Helioscope as accessories. The Transit Instrument will have an objective of 4-inches clear aperture of the Cleveland Chamber of Commerce, and is a member of the firm of Warner & Swasey, makers of the largest telescopes in the world, including the great Lick telescope in California, and the forty-inch Yerkes instrument at Lake Geneva, Wis. Mr. Swasey has previously shown his interest in Denison University by generous gifts, he having made the largest contribution towards the new gymnasium, which is named for him, and at the last commencement time there was set up a beautiful and unique sun dial on the south plaza of the campus as his gift. Dr. Gilpatrick, the head of the mathematics department of the university, has been attempting for at least twenty-five years, to secure a worthy telescope and observatory. During the endowment movement of 1900 Mr. Swasey himself offered a $5,000 telescope to the institution, but gracefully allowed the sum to be used towards the erection of Cleveland hall, which seemed to be a more necessary object at the time.

The following is the letter read by Dr. Hunt from Mr. Swasey announcing the particulars as to his generous gift. The location chosen for the observatory is the beautiful crest of College Hill, between the property of Dr. Colwell and the new residence of the Dean of the Academy. It affords one of the finest sites for this purpose in all the middle west, having an unusually ample and unusual freedom from the smoke and earth tremors caused by manufactures and railroads of a large city. It may well be expected that Mr. Swasey's hope will be fulfilled and that valuable original work will be done at the Granville observatory.

"With reference to an Astronomical Observatory for the University, of which I spoke to you when in Cleveland and also when we met a few weeks later in London, as you know I had not then given the matter sufficient consideration to enable me to say definitely what I would propose to do, but since talking with you, I have given the question further thought and will save at the observatory. I have in mind a present to the University, will consist of a building with a central tower surmounted by a revolving dome about 19 feet in diameter. Connected with this central tower there will be two wings, one at the east and the other at the west, the eastern wing to contain the Transit Instrument and the western wing to contain the Clocks and and will be constructed as a combined Transit Instrument and Zenith Telescope. There will also be supplied a Chronograph and two standard clocks, one for sidereal time and the other for mean solar time.

The optical parts for these instruments will be made by Mr. John A. Brashear of Allegheny, Pa., and the instruments will be designed and constructed by the Warner & Swasey company, and it will be my pleasure to have not only the construction of the observatory building, but the instruments throughout, most modern in every respect. While this building and equipment may be considered primarily as an educational observatory, yet it is hoped that much original research and investigation will be carried on. I may say that I have commissioned Mr. J. Milton Dyer, one of the most prominent architects of this city to design the building."

On Tuesday evening of this week the Fortnightly club of this place opened the year's work with an interesting program held at the home of Mrs. Pond and Miss Bancroft. Miss Carpenter gave an exceedingly interesting talk on the Geography of Holland and a number of the members made things interesting by relating incidents in connection with the vacation period. The guests were Miss Ann Hughes, Mrs. Belford, Mrs. F. Buxton, Mrs. Guckert, Mrs. Charles Robinson, Mrs. H. W. Howe, Mrs. Lillabel Eldred of Cleveland, Miss Shrively and Mrs. Wood. During the social hour ice cream and cake were served. The next meeting of the club will be held with Miss Carpenter September 29.

One of the most enjoyable events of the past week was the dinner party given by Mr. and Mrs. Era Perry to a number of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Perry on Tuesday, September 15, in honor of the fortieth anniversary of their wedding.

B. O. Chessire, the well known lumber dealer, has purchased a lot of the old Granville Female College property on College street from J. S. Jones and Harry Thomas and will build in the spring. The consideration for the lot was $1,200.

Many complimentary remarks by the students regarding the improved appearance of things around the college buildings are being made. This work has been under the direct management of Mr. G. Hopkins.

At the opening meeting in chapel Thursday, Dr. C. J. Baldwin, pastor of the Baptist church, led in prayer and Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson, vocal instructor in the Conservatory of Music, sang most beautifully, "Hope in the Lord."

Miss Minnie Cross of Granville, and Mr. Gale Seaman of Springfield, O., were united in marriage Tuesday morning at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Seaman is a graduate of Denison University, and also of Crozier Theological Seminary of Philadelphia. He has been very prominent in Y. M. C. A. work during his attendance in college, and has been appointed as general secretary in this work, his territory embracing several states west of the Rocky Mountains. His headquarters will be in Los Angeles, Cal. Following the marriage the newly married couple left for their home in Los Angeles. They have the best wishes of all their friends.

Look Out For Fires.

People should not burn their trash at this time, when everything is dry and inflammable as tinder. There is too much danger of conflagration.

Plenty of Fruit.

There is an unusual large demand for fruit jars at the present time, and there is an indication that more fruit than ever is being canned by the people this year.

Mark It Down.

Let it be remembered that on the eighteenth day of September of this year of grace, divers Newark men were seen in public places wearing hats of straw, and no man said them, nay.

Hard On Razors.

The barbers of Newark say that the dry weather and the dust makes it hard on their razors, as the dust lodges in the beard of the men and that but a few shaves requires re-honing.

OBITUARY

MRS. SARAH WILSON.

Mrs. Sarah Wilson, wife of Mr. Simon P. Wilson, an employee of the Electric Railway company of this city, died at her home, 381 South German street, Friday morning at 10:45 o'clock, after an illness extending over a period of two years with a complication of diseases. Mrs. Wilson's maiden name was Sarah Cooper, and she was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cooper, prominent farming people of Perry county, near Thornville. At the time of her death she was aged 59 years. In early life she was united in marriage to Mr. Simon P. Wilson, and from this union eight children were born, only three of whom are living. They are: Jesse H. Wilson, Advocate press-man; Mrs. Robert Goodrich of Granville; and Mrs. John Bush, who lives at home. She is also survived by one brother, Mr. C. L. Cooper, of this city. The deceased was a good Christian woman, and had been a faithful member of the Lutheran church all her life. At this writing no arrangements have been made for the funeral. The surviving members of the family have the sympathy of all their friends in their affliction.

MRS. ANDREW HULSHIZER.

Mrs. Andrew Hulshizer, wife of Andrew Hulshizer of Utica, died at her home Thursday evening at 6 o'clock, after a lingering illness of paralysis of the nerves.

She was aged 25 years, and is survived by her husband and six children—Edward and William of Newark; Frank of Utica; George of Kansas City Mo.; John R. of Granville; and Mrs. Etta Dunning of Richmond, Va.

The funeral services will be conducted at the home Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. Interment will be made at Mt. Vernon.

GOVERNOR DELAYS ACTION ON DEMOCRATIC MEASURE

During the last session of the legislature a resolution declaring in favor of calling a convention to amend the constitution of the United States so as to provide for the election of senators by direct vote of the people, was introduced by Representative White (Democrat) of Washington county, who is now a candidate for congress in his district.

The resolution was copied after a like resolution adopted by the legislature of Oklahoma. It requires similar action by a majority of the state legislatures to call such a constitutional convention.

Mr. White's resolution was permitted to drag along until very near the close of the session. The only opposition to this Democratic measure came from the Republican side of the legislature. Shortly before adjournment, however, the resolution was adopted.

Governor Harris permitted this action of the legislature to go unnoticed until this week, when he appointed the commission provided for by the resolution.

Whether it was the Governor's intention to ignore the action of the legislature, if possible, or why he did not act sooner in the matter, is left for him to explain. But in announcing the Governor's appointments, a Republican paper at Columbus tries to cover up this neglect of duty, just brought to light, by saying that in his action "the Governor has given evidence that he stands with Judge Taft in favoring the election of senators by popular vote."

Such an explanation, however, will not square the Governor, because Mr. Taft's only endorsement of direct election of senators was when he said in his speech of acceptance, "Personally I am inclined to favor it, but it is hardly a party question."

It is not only a party question, but it is one of the important issues before the people this year because the Democratic National Convention declared in favor of it, while the Republican National Convention refused by a vote of 866 to 114 to put such a plank in the Republican platform only two of the delegates from Ohio voting for the plank that was so overwhelmingly defeated.

It has taken over four months for Governor Harris to bring his personal inclination up to the point of appointing a commission on this Democratic measure, as required to do by the resolution of the Ohio Legislature.

The Wall Street Journal states in its issue of September 16 that the "return of foreign labor element to Europe continues larger than immigration." Does this look much like the improvement in business that Republican politicians and newspapers have been saying so much about for campaign purposes? Of course American workmen will be only too glad if the foreign element returning to Europe will stay there and that the tariff-fed monopolists.

will never be permitted to bring the "pauper labor" back again.

When Republicans were boasting about the full dinner pail, their slogan was: "Let well enough alone." But now the Republicans having emptied the dinner pail, their slogan must be changed to read "Let bad enough alone."

It's hard, we must admit, for the Republicans to be held to the record of misdeeds at the statehouse and state institutions, but they must face the record, no matter how much they try to switch issues and distract the attention of Ohio voters. It is a certainty that the state officers would not be using the state treasury funds in their own banks, largely without interest, if a strong man like Judson Harmon were in the Governor's office.

SENSATION IS PRECIPITATED BY EDITOR HEARST

Columbus, Sept. 18.—Before an audience of about 3,000 persons at Memorial Hall last night, William Randolph Hearst and Thomas L. Hisgen, presidential candidates of the Independence League, opened the campaign for that organization in Ohio.

Mr. Hearst, who did not arrive at the hall until late, denounced the candidates of the two dominant parties.

Most sensational of all, and which made the great crowd sit up and take notice, was the reading of what he claimed to be copies of two letters from John D. Archbold to Senator Joseph B. Foraker.

Both were notices of inclosures of certificates of deposit, the face value of which were $15,000 and $14,000. Mr. Hearst stated that he did not care to divulge the name of the man who furnished the letters for fear that the man would be persecuted by the oil company.

Cincinnati, Sept. 18.—Senator Foraker gave out a signed statement this morning which says in part: "I do not know whether the letters given out by Mr. Hearst are true copies or not, but I assume they are, for I was then engaged in the practice of law and was employed by the Standard Oil company, as one of its counsel in connection with its affairs in Ohio, where it was attacked in courts and in the legislature. My employment had no reference whatever to anything pending in congress or to anything in which the federal government had the slightest interest. That employment ended before my first term in the senate expired. I have not represented the company in any way since long before it was attacked by the federal government."

In his statement Foraker says he did work for the Standard and was paid like any other lawyer and that his connection with the Standard as an attorney was well known and that he was re-elected to the Senate with the full knowledge of such employment.

Who Committed Suicide In Chicago Was Not Rev. G. I. Hoover, Formerly of Newark.

Marysville, Mo., Sept. 18.—The unidentified man who committed suicide at 162 Jackson boulevard, Chicago, last Sunday after maltreating a five-year-old boy, is believed to be W. G. Hoover, who was pastor of the First Baptist church here. The description tallies with that of the unfrocked preacher charged with having wronged boys. He left Marysville on foot on the dead of night. His wife was sent to her parents at Newark, Ohio.

Investigation here failed to reveal the identity of any Rev. W. G. Hoover whose wife's parents live here. The Rev. G. I. Hoover was formerly located here, but a special telegram to Chicago brought the information to the Advocate that the Rev. GLOWING

Is the Description of the Northwest Written by Congressman W. A. Ashbrook, to The Independent.

Congressman W. A. Ashbrook, who, with his good wife and Squire Rusler and wife of Johnston, have been attending the convention of the National Editorial Association at St. Paul, Minn., have been having a great time according to a letter written for The Independent by Mr. Ashbrook. In the letter Mr. Ashbrook gives a glowing and graphic description of the northwest country and its wonderful growth and prosperity, telling how the great prairie wheat belt of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta beckon the settler thither, and where the returns of the farmer are a hundred fold. There are always great opportunities in any new country for a fellow who will work, is honest and determined to succeed, but there is no more room for a drone in Canada than there is in Ohio. The letter which is four or five columns in length, is exceedingly interesting from beginning to end, and Mr. Ashbrook concludes his graphic description of the country with the following poetic quotation:

"When the burdens of life I am called to lay down,

I hope I may die in Ohio. I never could ask a more glorious crown.

Than one of the sod of Ohio, And when the last trump wakes the land and sea

And the tombs of the earth set their prisoners free,

You may all go aloft if you choose, but for me—

I think I'll just stay in Ohio.

JUDGE REES IS REPORTED GREAT DEAL BETTER

Injuries Are Not As Serious As At First Supposed, and He Will Be Out in a Few Days.

Mr. Fred Wright, cashier of the First National Bank of this city, received a letter Friday morning from Mrs. E. C. Wright, who is in Detroit, stating that the condition of her father, Judge Jonathan Rees, who was injured by a street car striking him, is not as serious as she supposed. She says, however, that he sustained a number of severe bruises in various parts of his body, in addition to the scalp wound, but she is of the opinion that he will be able to be out in a short time. At present he is at the Rose hospital, where he is receiving the best of attention.

TORTURING ANIMALS TO ASSIST SCIENCE

Is a Cruel Method to Follow, But It Has Saved Many Human Lives.

Prof. Pawlow, of Russia, was engaged for many years in experimental work, trying to learn the workings of digestion, especially the digestive glands.

He, with able assistants, operated upon dogs, cats, guinea pigs and other animals.

His methods were seemingly painful, but he gave to science a work which won the Nobel prize and made for him an undying fame.

Science penetrated the secrets of nature. Prof. Pawlow saw animals digest food. He analyzed juice from every part of the digestive canal and stomach under all conditions of digestion. He spent years of ceaseless study amid the howling and dying beasts, but he won, and science today looks upon him as a great man.

"To do a great right do a little wrong," Shakespeare said, and Prof. Pawlow obeyed this little saying.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are prepared by the most scientific process. They are produced by modern appliances, and meet the demand of 20th century chemistry.

They give man the means to correct his infirmities of stomach and digestive organs.

They enrich the blood, give nature the juices and fluids she lacks, stop the formation of noxious gases and the fermentation of food. They neutralize powerful acids and alkalies, which irritate and devour the stomach. They prevent and relieve heart and intestinal trouble and soothe the nerves.

They should be used after every meal, whether one has dyspepsia and stomach trouble or the stomach be naturally healthy. By their use one may eat at all hours and whatever one desires and they help the system digest or throw off such food. They are thoroughly meritorious as their tremendous sale and popularity illustrate.

Every drug store has them for sale, price 50c per package. If you would like to test their merits free, send your name and address and we will send you a trial package by mail without cost. Address F. A. Stuart Co., 156 State Bldg., Marshall, Mich.

EFFICIENT

IS SYSTEM EMPLOYED BY YORK CONSTRUCTION CO. IN LAYING WATER PIPE.

Tests of Pipe Show Successful Manner of Doing Work—Advocate Reporter Witnesses Interesting Operation of Workmen.

An Advocate reporter witnessed the test of about 1350 feet of city water pipe laid by the York Construction company, on Hudson avenue, between St. Clair and Shields streets Wednesday afternoon, and incidentally learned some interesting facts relative to the system of pipe laying employed by the company.

The test, which was started about 3:30 was productive of a good showing, the pressure register showing 157 pounds. In making these pipe tests, one of which is made at every intersection with cross lines, the company uses its own engine to run up the pressure in streets where the regular service pressure cannot be obtained. Valves are closed at each end of the section to be tested and the pipes are then run full of water, after which the pump is started. If there is the slightest leakage in the valves at either end of the section, or in the jointing of the pipes it will show on the pressure gauge and as soon as the pump is stopped the pressure will begin to show reduction on the gauge.

Thus, many precautions and the greatest accuracy is required in jointing the pipes to prevent leaks. Skilled workmen are required to do all jointing and caulking, and this system is finely worked out by the York Construction company as the Hudson avenue work and tests demonstrated.

The Hudson avenue line is a good example of some of the problems confronting the skilled pipe layer. In the first place service pipes and sewers must be avoided, and in doing this some puzzling crooks and turns are required in the trenching. Some times it is necessary to vary the direction of the pipe to either side, and at other places it must be raised or lowered, as the case may be. But all the time, the foreman must be in mind that these deflections must be very gradual throughout the length of the line.

Undoubtedly a great saving feature of the company's system is the pipe lowering device by means of which a great amount of time and labor is saved and the work proportionately facilitated. Ordinarily one pipe is lowered into a trench at a time and the pointing and caulking is done in the ditch, necessitating the digging of what is known as a "bell hole" in the trench at each pipe joint, to give room for the workmen to close the joint.

Not so under the York company's system. By the use of double derricks for lowering the pipes, three lengths may be joined together at a time and finished above ground. Then these three sections are lowered into the trench and only one "bell hole" is required to connect the pipe at the joint.

The work of joining and caulking is very strenuous and exacting, and the inconvenience is added to many fold when every joint is closed below ground, and naturally much time is consumed in that way that is saved by use of the derricks under this company's system.

Joint caulking is an interesting, but trying, operation. When the pipes are lowered into the trench the joints must be properly fitted together. After this is done large quantities of coarse hemp rope is pounded into the bell of the joint the entire distance around the pipe and as solidly as can be done. An asbestos jacket, or rim, is then fitted around the pipe close to the edge of the bell, but leaving a slight aperture on top, which is edged around with clay. It is into this little aperture that molten lead is then poured. The hot metal runs clear around the inside of the bell of the pipe next to the asbestos rim. When the metal is sufficiently cooled the rim is removed, the clay edge, or "gate" cut away, and the point is then ready for the next man.

The next workman is equipped with a set of tools with which to drive the cooling lead farther into the meshes of hemp, so that when the packing is thoroughly finished, the joint is a solid mass impenetrable to air or water.

From place to place this routine goes on and, under the old system, would require a great length of time, but under the advanced method of caulking two joints of each small section while it is above ground, some idea of how the work is facilitated can be gained. It is due greatly to this system that the company is enabled to progress so rapidly in the work, laying on an average of from 1000 to 1200 feet of pipe a day.

SERVICE BOARD

Will Not Accept Waterworks Plant Until Satisfied That Condensing Apparatus Will Work Properly.

An extended conference was held in the city hall, Thursday afternoon, between representatives of the American Light and Water company and the Board of Public Service. The meeting was at the instigation of the former, the company desiring to arrange to turn the municipal waterworks plant over to the city, now that Engineer Hitchcock's report has been received.

Members of the Board informed the company's representatives that they were not yet wholly satisfied with the condensing apparatus and that being the case, they did not care to accept the plant and try to run it until they had first become satisfied that the city's men could handle it successfully.

Accordingly it was agreed to give the city an opportunity to see what the plant will do under the charge of the city's own men, and Friday the Board put its men to work at the pumping station. It will be impossible to tell just what progress is being made before the close of the day.

Although the city's employees are today making a trial run of the municipal waterworks plant, under normal conditions, the Board of Public Service is not quite satisfied with the efficiency of the condensing apparatus at the pumping station, notwithstanding the fact that Engineer Hitchcock's report gives the outfit passing favor.

In a part of his report Mr. Hitchcock reviews the service of the condensers and says:

"Therefore, if the condensing apparatus and the steam driven air and circulating pumps will maintain practically a 26-inch vacuum when operating at less than 50 double strokes per minute, when the engines are working continuously under normal conditions, the condensing equipment should be considered as satisfactory for the pumping units."

LEROY LETTS SHOT BY HIS NEIGHBOR

Taken To Mt. Vernon. It was decided that his injuries were of such a serious nature that he should be removed at once to a hospital, so the injured man was made as comfortable as possible, placed in an auto and hurried to a hospital in that place. On examination it was found that one of the bullets had taken effect, entering the abdomen two inches above the naval, and had penetrated two folds of the intestines, lodging in the muscles of the back in close proximity to the spinal column.

Successful Operation. The operation necessary in removing the ball was successful, and, although the man was left resting comfortably, it is feared that he cannot live as there is grave danger of peritonitis or blood poisoning, or both.

Hilbrant Regrets Deed.

Immediately after the shooting Hilbrant went to his home where he was met by his wife. He told her that he had caught the men and shot at them and exhibited his injuries sustained in the fight. Mrs. Hilbrant telephoned neighbors that her husband was badly hurt and asked if they would not summons a doctor.

Neighbors went to the Hilbrant home and informed the man of what he had done, telling him it was feared Letts could not survive. Hilbrant was much alarmed by the news and said that it was too bad, and that he was sorry he did it.

Requests Own Arrest.

Shortly after the information had been imparted to him, Hilbrant asked to be brought to Newark to see what could be done about his case. J. C. Hartsock of Homer, shortly afterward started with Hilbrant in his auto to meet the authorities and give him up. Hilbrant is said to have declared to neighbors that in the scuffle following the shooting Letts or Perkins struck him on the head with a hatchet. A deep abrasion in the man's scalp which bled profusely, substantiated his statement, although no hatchet was found about the barn yard where the fight took place.

The shooting was done with a 32-calibre revolver, which, when taken by Perkins, had four empty chambers. The first shot had been fired when Hilbrant first found the men about the tree, and the other three had been fired at Letts in the barn yard, the one taking effect.

Were Close Friends. It is said that the Letts and Hilbrant families were on good terms. They had resided on adjoining farms for a long time, and were frequently seen together. It is believed that Hilbrant had been secretly informed of the intention of the party to rob the bee tree on his place, or else he was aroused by the noise made by the men when they were chopping the tree down.

May Be Murder.

In case of the death of Letts, which is hourly expected, a charge of murder will probably be placed against Hilbrant, and his case will come up before the next grand jury session in this county.

Friday morning the children had special services at St. Francis de Sales and at the Blessed Sacrament churches. They were then given a holiday.

Friday and Saturday evenings at St. Francis de Sales church Benediction will be at 7 o'clock. Confessions will be heard after Benediction Friday evening and as usual on Saturday.

To Clean Kitchen Utensils.

Cleaning pots and kettles is usually considered the most disagreeable piece of drudgery in the household, but like everything else there is an easier way to do it, if one knows how. As soon as the food is removed from such utensils, pour in some water and a small quantity of a solution made by dissolving a tablespoonful of Gold Dust washing powder in a gallon of water. Leave to soak while washing the dishes, then pour off the water and fill with clean suds made in the same way. If particles of food still adhere to the inside of the utensils, use pot rings for removing them.

AUTUMN WEDDING CELEBRATED AT ELMCROFT PLACE

Mr. Walter Charles Metz and Miss Helen Weiant Principals In Pretty Nuptial Ceremony.

An autumn wedding which will long live in pleasant memory, was that of Miss Helen Weiant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren S. Weiant, and Mr. Walter Charles Metz which took place Thursday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Elmcroft, the Weiant home, was decorated for the occasion with a color scheme of green and yellow, worked out with southern smilax and autumn flowers.

In the living room, where the ceremony was performed, a profusion of palms and marigolds effectively carried out the colors chosen, while ropes of smilax festooned from the chandelier to the mantle formed a canopy under which the bridal party stood. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Lewis P. Franklin, rector of Trinity Episcopal church.

The appointments were marked by extreme simplicity and there were no attendants. The bride was lovely in her traveling suit of brown broadcloth with hat of the same hue. She carried a bouquet of blush roses, lilies of the valley and maidenhair fern.

Following the ceremony dinner was served in the dining rooms where pink and green were the colors used.

The following guests were in attendance upon the wedding: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Metz, Miss Corinne A. Metz, Mr. Harry Metz, Mr. and Mrs. Weiant, Miss Marian Warren Weiant, Mr. Carl Weiant, Master Warren Weiant, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis P. Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Kennedy, Miss Bertha Latimer, Mrs. Rufus Rogers and Miss Marian Rogers of Chicago, Ill.

HASLOP—ROBERTS.

The wedding of Miss Ada Roberts and Mr. Arthur Haslop was solemnized at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Thurman street residence of Rev. R. E. Brown, pastor of the Market street Baptist church. The couple were unattended. The bride is the organist of the Fultonham Baptist church and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Roberts of Fultonham. The groom is a brakeman on the Z. and W. and he and his bride will reside in Fultonham.

OPENING WEEK STILL PROVING VERY POPULAR

Supper of Business Men Tonight Will Be Elegant Affair—High School Night a Success.

Some men have been a little fearful that the Business Men's supper at the Y. M. C. A. tonight was to be a money raising affair, but the association secretaries say that there is nothing of the sort in the plans. The idea is to have a good social time, throw off business restraints and cares for a time and enjoy a tasty supper and some unusual speeches from a couple of very bright men. Both Mr. Towson and Dr. Roberts arrived from the east today.

Newark folk will be much interested in the fact that the man chosen to develop and supervise the work among the Ohio miners is Mr. John G. Percy the former secretary of the Newark Association. A visit from Mr. and Mrs. Percy is one of the things to be arranged later.

The ladies who have charge of the supper tonight are Mrs. E. S. Randolph, Mrs. Arthur Taylor, Mrs. V. V. Overturf, Mrs. Joseph Montgomery, Mrs. A. E. Davis, Miss Bowers, Miss Crawford, Mrs. Cripps, Miss Kate Wisegarber, Mrs. Wiessecke, Mrs. A. O. Ludwig and Mrs. G. W. Lippincott.

Anybody can see that the supper is bound to be a success. Acceptances have been coming in nicely and a representative body of Newark business men is following.

The following program at the High school night was an evidence of the good judgment of Mr. Orley H. See. It was clever and original and entertaining to a degree.

Reading—Donald Ruff.
Violin solo—Don Kissane.
Piano solo—Bessie Larkin.
Reading—Mrs. Bert Ruff.
Violin solo—Mr. See.
Reading—Dorothy Edmiston.
Violin duo—Messrs. Shrock, Mitchell and See.

There was plenty of applause and plenty of enthusiastic praise of the various members. There was not a weak spot in the line Miss Larkins' piano playing is little short of astonishing.

The Shop men's night Saturday will also be changed to an open night for lady friends and the families of Newark shop workmen to come and enjoy a good program. No admission fee and all the shop men and their friends are invited.

Mr. W. W. Nusbbaum has planned a novelty in the entertainment line. Through the kindness of Mr. A. J. Rawlings a fine Elexole player piano will be on the stage and in addition to some of the best of the selections by the player as a soloist a number of fine duets will give the touch of novelty. Mrs. Ludwig will sing with the "roll" for an accompaniment, and Mr. See will give a violin solo also accompanied by the player piano and J. B. Warton the baritone soloist will give "The Bedouin Love Song."

ARE LIEUT. GOVERNOR DRAPER AND SON BY VISIT OF CHILD TO GRANDPARENTS.

Son Also Wins Father's Admiration by His Independence and Industry.

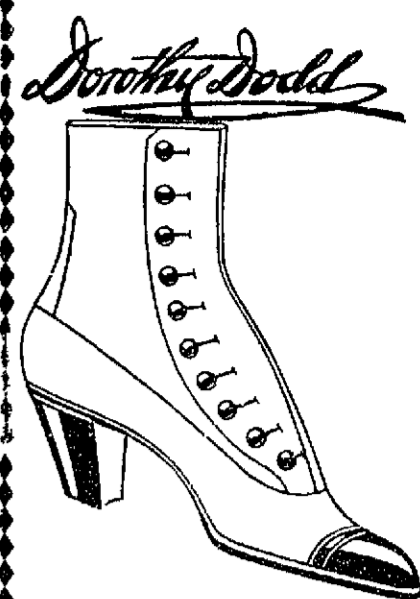

Hopedale, Mass., Sept. 18.—The bringing of their child to the home of its grand parents is believed to have reconciled Lieut. Gov. Draper and his son H. Bristow, who became estranged when the son suddenly wed Queenie Sanford, a chorus girl, after announcing his engagement to another.

After his marriage to the actress young Draper went to Burlington, hired out as a machinist in the cotton mills, and on his small wages provided a cottage home for his bride. His independence and industry are believed to have won his father's admiration and the advent of the child is said to have settled all differences. It is now believed young Draper will find occupation in his father's mills.

GYGLI IS SOLD TO BIRMINGHAM

Newark's First Baseman Will Go To the Southern League—Newark Sorry To Lose Him.

Frank Gygli, for two years past the clever, first baseman of the Molders, was sold last night to Birmingham of the Southern League, and will probably join that team at once. Gygli, or "Gyck," as he was known by the fans in Newark, and all over the circuit, was secured by Newark from Lancaster, and for the time he has been with the club he has been one of its mainstays.

By his hitting at critical times he was called "Pinch-hit," and this name was very appropriate, for his timely hitting in many games has driven in the winning run for the Newark team. On first base he had few equals, and his work has been long watched by big leaguers, who, as soon as he has a little more experience, will be sure to take him into faster company.

The Birmingham club is one of the best class organizations in the company, and the ex-Newark first baseman will be a valuable addition to them. Popular with fans and players, he was known as one of the cleanest players in the game, and his work around the first sack has not been equalled in the Ohio State League.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—Billy Sullivan, one of the steadiest catchers in the American league, is developing into a humorist. "Billy" has worked nearly every game his team has played this year. A few days since he did not warm up with the rest of the team. Manager Jones found him on the bench enjoying the spectacle of the others at labor.

"What's the matter, sick?" inquired Jones.

"No," responded Sullivan.

"Tired?" quired the manager.

"No," replied Sullivan.

"Well, why don't you go out and warm up then?"

"Warm up, the dickens. I haven't cooled off since the 14th of last April," replied Sullivan, who climbed into his harness and proceeded to catch the game of his life.

The offer, of course, will be withdrawn should McFarland lose to Cross here on October 2, but the deponents figure the Chicago lad is invincible in a six-round go, and say that he should breeze it.

The Masonic-Elks game is being played at Wehrle park this afternoon, and a good sized crowd is in attendance. The teams are well matched, and "official dope" says that Bunny Pearce is booked to umpire the game. The teams are well matched and a good game is assured.

That game Sunday when the Hermann's and the Old Homestead team will play is bound to be a pretty classy affair, for the teams seem to be well matched and they both play good ball. The fans that turn out to see the game can rest assured that they will be well repaid for the time they spend at the ball yard that afternoon.

An aftermath of the blowing up of the O-P league comes in the announcement that the old board of directors have resigned, and have emphatically declared that they are through with the game in Akron. The fans would not support the team and the directors had to keep "digging" all the time to make up for the money they didn't take in.

Bucyrus won the Crawford county ball tournament Wednesday and Brianna of Mansfield caught both games. Lucas, Burk and Wilson played with the representative team of that city, and Lucas was defeated by Fred Koehl, who jumped the Newark team early in the spring.

It is not generally known that Manager O'Day of the Marlon team once received a tryout in the American league. He pitched two games for the Chicago White Sox and was sent back to the minors.

FOOTBALL

Will Have Prosperous Year, According to Coach Stagg of Chicago—Will Be Fewer Injuries.

Chicago, Sept. 18.—That the football season of 1908 will reach a level of public interest and perfection of play far above that of any previous year is the prediction by Coach A. A. Stagg of the University of Chicago, in a review of the outlook for the coming gridiron period. The midway director believes the strides to be taken this season will far outstrip anything in football annals.

The increased popular demand for sports of all kinds, the added public confidence in the framers of the football rules and the decrease in the number of football injuries are the chief reasons for the revival outlined by the Chicago leader. The result will be a financially and "artistically" prosperous football season, according to Stagg.

HORSES

That Go In Two-minutes Go 44 Feet In a Second—Several Horses Have Done It.

Few railroads stop to consider what it means for a horse attached to a sulky and with a man of 150 pounds riding behind him to travel a mile in less than two minutes.

Minor Heir, who paced in 1:53 1-2 over a track not the best in the world, became one of the five horses that ever paced in less than two minutes. Two trotters have accomplished the feat. Lou Dillon, 1:53 1-2, and Major Deltmar, 1:59 1-2, being the pair. To travel a mile in two minutes means the covering of 44 feet of ground a second. To travel a mile in less than that time, of course, increases the amount to be covered.

It's a great feat, and when Minor Heir became one of the seven horses to draw a sulky in that time, he added great laurel to himself.

FOR THE SAKE OF OTHERS

Considers It Her Duty To Tell.

I write this for publication with the hope that it will influence others who suffer as I did to try the great Root Juice remedy. The wonderful medicine has done so much good for me that I feel it my duty to tell it. For years I spent a life of misery, but thanks to the great discovery, I am now free from every ache or pain. I, like many others, was very skeptical when the papers first told of the many hundreds of cures Root Juice was making, but after seeing several people that were using it, I concluded to try it, although I felt that every organ of my body was almost worn out. My liver was torpid, my kidneys were weak and my stomach was in a horrible condition. At times it felt like it was full of rocks. A great deal of gas formed and I had weak spells frequently and was badly constipated. My appetite was very poor and even in hot weather my hands and feet were cold. I was using some kind of medicine most of the time, without much benefit. After taking the Juice a few days I began to improve. I have used four bottles and am feeling better than I have for twenty years, and I believe the remedy has permanently cured me.—Mrs. J. A. Colbert, R. R. No. 7, Ft. Wayne, Ind. The great remedy has done worlds of good here, as any one can learn by calling at the City Drug Store. Root Juice is sold for $1 a bottle.

WILL PUT BLACK BASS IN STREAMS

State Fish Commission Will Distribute 400,000 Black Bass In Rivers.

Columbus, Sept. 18.—Cheer up, ye disciples of Isak Walton! There is something in store for you by grace of an act soon to be performed by the Ohio fish and game commission.

Fishing has been good this season, but two years hence the streams of the state will abound with the gamiest of bass and there will be all kinds of sport for anglers. At the state hatcheries at London 400,000 small-mouth black bass are ready to be distributed, and preparations for the event are being completed so the tour of the state will be begun the last of September. Every important stream in the state will receive its quota of fish.

The average size of the fish is about four inches. They are all declared to be healthy specimens and by the time the open season of 1910 arrives will be eligible to nibble at the festive angle worm or attractive spoon-hook.

The present season is reported by anglers to be better than for many seasons, and this condition is due to the fact that the officers of the Ohio fish and game commission have been vigilant in protecting the members of the finny tribe for two years.

THE GIRL WITH THE AUBURN HAIR

Is on the outside package of every bottle of Parisian Sage. Should you forget the name simply ask for the package with "the girl with the Auburn hair" upon it. And what a wonderful sale Parisian Sage has made for itself in America in a little over a year. And what a multitude of people have been cured of falling hair, dandruff and itching scalp by its use.

And how the American women praise Parisian Sage for its peculiar ability to turn harsh, faded, lusterless hair into fresh, beautiful, silky and lustrous hair in a few days.

Parisian Sage is today the favorite hair dressing and tonic of discriminating Americans, not because of sensational methods of advertising, but because it is the only hair restorer that will do just what it is advertised to do.

It kills the dandruff germs and cures dandruff in two weeks. If it doesn't, T. J. Evans, the agent in Newark will give you your money back.

"I had been troubled with dandruff for five years, but since using Parisian Sage I have not been bothered with it. I only used one-half bottle when I noticed the dandruff disappearing. I consider it the best hair tonic I ever used."—Mrs. C. B. Morton, 450 Main street, Buffalo, N. Y., August 10, 1908.

If you haven't tried Parisian Sage get a bottle today. It is a delightful dressing. The price is only 50 cents for a large bottle at Evans' Drug Store, Hotel Warden Block, or direct, all charges prepaid, by the American makers, Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, New York.

He Knows

Consult your doctor freely about medical matters. He knows. Trust him. Do as he says. Follow his advice.

Talk with your doctor about Ayer's non-alcoholic Sarsaparilla. Ask him if he prescribes it for pale, delicate children. Ask him if he recommends it when the blood is thin and impure, and when the nerves are weak and unsteady. Ask him if it aids nature in building up the general health. J. C. Ayer & Co., Lowell, Mass.

The Tendency In Clothesmaking

And buying has been along radical lines. By general consent the fancy styles have been given over to the college or high-school boys. The point with us has been to get goods of this kind that will bear inspection as to workmanship; goods that we are willing to stand back of to the limit. There isn't a style we carry that isn't in good taste.

"LADIES DAY"

Will Not Be Held by A. A. Clubs In 1909—Preliminary Meeting Held.

The regular fall meeting of the club owners of the American Association was held in Chicago yesterday, and preliminary business matters were taken up for discussion preparatory to the annual meeting in December. The pennant will be officially awarded to Indianapolis at this meeting.

The magnates decided that there will be no "ladies day" at any of the ball parks in 1909, and that the free list will be cut down over fifty per cent. The "shirt waist" parade is not looked favorably upon by the club owners who claim that many ladies who go to the free days do not attend any of the other games.

Many of Our Customers

Wait the arrival of the Wooltex Suits.

We are pleased to announce their line is now complete and ready for Saturday's showing.

Why Wooltex Customers Wait

No. 1.—They have been pleased with the wear of their other Wooltex suit.

No. 2.—Wooltex fabrics are all wool—no cloth is put into a Wooltex suit excepting an all-wool cloth.

No. 3.—They originate their own styles—having fashion bureaus both in Paris and New York.

No. 4.—Every suit is thoroughly shrunken—every bit of shrink has been taken out of the cloth and you needn't worry over being caught in a shower.

No. 5.—The price is very reasonable for a high-grade suit.

No. 6.—The tailoring is closely watched.

No. 7.—The inside—the interlinings canvas, all hidden parts that you usually take on faith are honestly made and guaranteed.

No. 8.—Over 200 stitches are put into every reverse and collar to keep it in shape and it must be flat.

No. 9.—Every Wooltex suit she has ever worn feels good.

No. 10.—Because good work and good fabrics will insure good wear and the Wooltex suit holds its good shape for two seasons.

MUTINOUS OUTBREAKS

IN BRITISH NAVY HAS CAUSED RIGID EXAMINATION BY ADMIRALTY.

Laxity in Naval Discipline and Mismanagement is Said to be Responsible.

London, Sept. 18.—As a result of the recent mutiny aboard the cruiser Gibraltar communications are passing between Premier Asquith and the admiralty board preliminary to the board's inquiry into the entire navy's discipline.

The government gravely alarmed at the growing spirit of mutiny in the navy has at last decided to throw off the cloak secrecy and make a rigid examination.

There have been at least a dozen mutinous outbreaks among English sailors within the last few months. While most of them have been easily suppressed they have indicated a laxity in naval discipline and mismanagement generally; that the government is afraid to face the future effectiveness of the navy.

Premier Asquith is demanding that the admiralty go to the bottom of the scandal and weed out the trouble makers.

CONFRONTING STARVATION

HUSBAND BURNS HOME WHEN WIFE BROUGHT PARENTS TO LIVE WITH THEM.

After Arrest Twice Attempted Suicide, by Chewing Torpedo and Hanging Self in Jail.

St. Louis, Sept. 18.—Unable to find employment and confronting starvation, W. W. Reamer of East St. Louis early yesterday attempted to burn the house in which his wife and three small children and Mrs. Reamer's father and mother were asleep, and later made two attempts to kill himself. Reamer returned home to find that, without consulting him, his wife had brought her parents to live with her. In anger, he saturated the furniture with gasoline and set fire to it, then went outside to watch the result. Mrs. Reamer awoke and by heroic efforts rescued the other occupants and raised an alarm. The fire was extinguished and Reamer arrested. On the way to the station he tried to blow his head to atoms by chewing a railroad torpedo. Later in his cell he hanged himself with his suspenders but was cut down in time to save his life.
